Application fee: Points to note

- Check that you have received the email confirming that you have completed the payment process. Keep this email in a safe place until the entrance exam is over.
- If you are a Japanese government-sponsored international student, you do not have to pay the application fee. You do need, however, to submit a Certificate for Attendance on a Japanese Government Scholarship for International Students issued by the university at which you are enrolled.
- Once payment of the application fee is completed, you will then be able to print out required documents such as the application for admission form.
- If you are using a credit card to pay for the application fee, make sure your card is valid before you attempt to pay. The name on the card does not need to be the same as that of the applicant.
- If your credit card does not work, try using another card or a different method of payment.

Exemption from payment of application fee

A special scheme has been established whereby victims of the Tohoku earthquake of March 2011 or the Kumamoto earthquake of April 2016 are exempted from paying the application fee, as a means of ensuring that victims of natural disaster are provided with opportunities to further their educational goals.

(1) Documents to be submitted

- Application for exemption from payment of application fee (official university format);
- A copy of your Victim of Natural Disaster Certificate (issued by your local authority)

(2) Points to note

- Register your online application after your eligibility for exemption from payment of the application fee has been established.
- For more information, go to the university's entrance exam info website (<http://admissions.geidai.ac.jp/>).

(3) Contact

Admissions Office, Student Affairs Division, Tokyo University of the Arts
Tel: 050-5525-2075 / Fax: 03-5685-7763

Return of application fee

The application fee will only be refunded in the following cases:

- Where you have undergone the process of paying the application fee but you have not provided the required documents.
- Where you have undergone the process of paying the application fee but your application was not accepted.

If you wish to claim a refund, download the "Request for refund of application fee" (official university format) from the entrance exam info site, complete the required details and send to:

Accounts Section, Strategic Planning Division, Tokyo University of the Arts, 12-8, Ueno Koen, Taito-ku, Tokyo, 110-8714

Notes

- A bank transfer fee will be deducted by the university from the amount to be refunded to the applicant.
- Any fees arising when the application fee was paid will not be refunded.
- It ordinarily takes two to three months after receipt of the "Request for refund of application fee" for the refunded amount to be deposited into your bank account.
- The deadline for submitting the "Request for refund of application fee" is 31 March 2018. If the application is not submitted by the deadline, the fee will not be refunded.

3 Sending required documents

Once you have completed the process for payment of the application fee, print out the necessary documents from the on-line application website or the entrance exam info website, complete the required information and send them to the university together with other required documents.

Required documents: Points to note

- Submissions of required documents will only be accepted where the postmark indicates that the documents were posted within the dates indicated for posting of required documents. If the postmark indicates that they were not posted within the dates indicated for posting, or if the documents are delivered in person, they will not be accepted under any circumstances.
- Documents will not be returned at the end of the application process under any circumstances.

4 Printing out exam slips

Once the application process is complete, you will be able to print out an exam slip from the online application website (you will be sent an email informing you that you are now able to print out the exam slip). Print the exam slip on an A4 sheet of paper and bring it with you to exams. Please note that exam slips are not issued by the university.

Exam slips: Points to note

- Check the information contained in the exam slips after printing. If the information you registered on the online application website and the information contained in an exam slip are not the same, please contact the Educational Affairs Office, Graduate School of Film and New Media.
- If by 25 December 2017 (26 January 2018) you have not received an email informing you that you are now able to print out exam slips, please contact the Educational Affairs Office, Graduate School of Film and New Media.
- Bring the exam slip printed on an A4 sheet of paper to the exam on the day.

5 Concurrent applications to other graduate schools of the university

There is no restriction on making concurrent applications to other graduate schools of the university (Fine Arts, Music, Global Arts). If, however, you have passed the exams of two or more of the graduate schools, you must decide which of the graduate schools you are going to attend and submit a Notice of Withdrawal (no official format required) to the graduate schools you will not be attending.

* Concurrent applications to the three departments within the Graduate School of Film and New Media are not permitted.

6 Prior consultation with disabled applicants

If you require special support or consideration when it comes to exams or learning, we advise you to request a consultation with the Graduate School of Film and New Media before you make your application. You should also request a consultation as soon as possible if, after making your application, you have been injured in an accident.
